*SUPPORTING DOCUMENT*

THE CHINESE (GOV'T) "TYRANNY VIRUS" DECONSTRUCTION OF A SOCIETAL WEAPON

"THE GREAT UNMASKING"

The "Tyranny Virus" is an attack on multiple fronts, where the least consequential aspects are deeply debated, and the most consequential are ignored completely.	Socialism/communism/monopolism, in practice, are "static states", economically, culturally, etc. The "static" effects, therefore, are the real intent behind this whole panic.
COMPONENT:	TEMPORAL CHARACTERISTIC:
Biological  Possibly engineered virus; strange symptoms; not that deadly; could be more innocuous than that, and is mostly perpetuated by panic, given justification by "doctored" numbers.	One Time Shot  (Unless we do not learn from this, and "allow" more. Trust your senses.)
Psychological	Static

Biological Possibly engineered virus; strange symptoms; not that deadly; could be more innocuous than that, and is mostly perpetuated by panic, given justification by "doctored" numbers.	One Time Shot  (Unless we do not learn from this, and "allow" more. Trust your senses.)
Psychological  Trains the population in the desired "fear response" - obedience - compliance; confusion attacks logic centers of brain; low consensus on rationale contrasts with high consensus to "follow orders".	Static  ("2+2=5"-type conditioning does not disappear with "immunity".)
Emotional Fear, panic, mistrust, to justify "lockdown"; malicious actors use emotional triggers, algorithmical abuse of social media on individual level, etc.  Cyclical  (Collective emotions have be played like a fiddle; areas or resistance may be "targeted")
Educational Clear lies and deceit destroy logical part of mind when followed. This is intentional. "Common Core" anti-mathematics, "critical race theory", etc., are clear attacks on the minds of the population, and particularly kids.	Static  (A classic tactic: change the standards forever and all time because of a small, temporary thing.)  Static  (Unless the people force it, the release of mandates is a "reward" for compliance, like a treat, as one trains a dog.)
Social  Forced isolation amounts to no less than mass torture, depending on disposition and prior relationships; diverts sociality to electronic devices and controlled, specially-curated platforms.
Cultural  A full-throated assault on anything and everything that people enjoy in groups: holidays, art, performance, entertainment,	Static  (Again, unless the people force it, the release of mandates is a "reward" for

POII	NTS OF ATTACK:
Freedoms
A. Speech Clear Attack	Chills free speech with censorship; literally, masks are muzzles, overt and implied.
B. Religion Clear Attack	Organized religion requires worship in person; gives free license for tyrants to abuse whoever they want, act on personal grudges.
C. The Press Clear Attack	Consistency in lying reinforces groupthink for the press; journalistic standards attacked; overt & self-imposed censorship.
D. Assembly  Clear Attack	Encourages and rewards "fear of others"; little face-to-face communication; social isolation; intends reality to be subservient to digital communication, controlled.
E. Bodily Sovereignty Clear Attack	Panic makes any impositions much worse; "bodily sovereignty" should be constitutional amendment, akin to Bill of Rights: "Congress shall make no law that"
Small Business  Clear Attack	Entrepreneurship is the cornerstone of a healthy economy & personal liberty; panic & fear hurt the small business worst. Monopolies benefit from panic, continuing trajectory of last few decades. "Carte blanche" for government/corporate collusion; virus provides easy "playing it stupid" excuse for criminals in government.
Independent Media  Clear Attack	Wide swathes of independent media attacked for basic questions of "authorities"; "legacy stations", traditionally relied upon, add extra force; again benefits monopolies only. (Except where and when "print" revives.)
General Culture  More Subtle Attack	Particularly damaging to large cities, where "groupthink" is very powerful, often simply as a result of population density. Smaller cultures attacked as well, as with business, if police choose to enforce unjust mandates.
Communication  More Subtle Attack	FORCES RELIANCE UPON DIGITAL COMMUNICATION DEVICES, which are primary means of censorship and miscommunication; builds upon 10 years, at least, before 2020 came. Younger generation has been targeted the most: computers and tablets for every grade school kid.

1. Restricts breathing of Oxygen
- from 21% atmospheric content to 17-18%, depending on the material and fit
2. Overloads CO2
- from 0.4% atmospheric content to 4.0%, 10 times the recommended amount
3. Increases Viral and Bacterial Intake
- rebreathing exhalations; moisture retention in mask mesh makes bacterial "petrie dish"
4. Hides "Image of God"
A. Our faces are our most visible, unique aspect of our physical selves. = "Denial of Self"
B. Reinforces feelings of "shame & guilt" (continuous)
C. Encourages uncleanliness of the area covered, disrespect of teeth, lips, tongue, etc.
5. Speech Muzzle
- literal hindrance to speaking, to being heard; compounds with other attacks on free speech (censorship, blacklisting, etc.)
6. Hides Non-verbal Expressions
- emotional notes, tone, feedback in conversation; psychologically vital, especially for children; expressions needed for proper negotiations, challenging or volatile situations, extremely important for performers, entertainers, teachers, managers, administrators, etc., really, anyone in front of a group
7. Attack on Logic
- the rationale behind masks goes against 4th grade biology, middle school physics, and high school psychology, to name but a few. "2+2=5" is not far behind.
8. Constant Messaging
- constant reminder that "the virus" is still here; inputs perpetual fear; makes hypochondriacs of everyone, despite lack of evidence to justify.  9. Attack on Trust
- evolutionary psychology deems, clearly, a natural distrust of anyone who hides their face, especially nose and mouth. In general, wisdom says that those who encourage people to hide themselves,
are the ones to distrust.
10. Potential Disaster Scenarios
- the possibilities are endless, and few of them are good.
11. "Twilight Zone Nightmare"
- What it is.

Detail on Masks

A Short Catalogue of Negative Aspects:

This virus panic was timed to coincide with:

- Generational usage of media and inflection points in the advancement of consumer technology, epitomized by, and requiring, the proliferation of "smartphones". Such that we would be dependent upon their usage in as many vital communications as possible, and that this usage could be leveraged for the "con of cons", cementing a digital coup over the nations.

- Such that people would have sufficient electronic entertainment to keep them complying with "lockdown"

- Such that, when real censorship is introduced, many people would be completely unaware of it at all, being that they had already stopped communicating in other traditional manners, like in person or in writing on paper.

- Such that the younger generation had been sufficiently "raised on the screens".

- Coincident with communication technology development, squealches the voices of those who are clearly against the prevailing deception, and allows what "leaders", who mandate the abuses we have experienced, to hide behind screens and firewalls, to avoid seeing the people they have hurt in real life, and avoid hearing real reason, that would destroy the illusions that they rely on, and to protect themselves from righteous justice with comfortable ignorance.

CONTEXT

The interconnected and delicate nature of the global trade of nations and companies, was building up to a necessary collapse of that system; i.e. the complexity and vital importance of the "college of corporations, run by the immutable bylaws of business"; the inconceivable enormity of such, in the mind of those who analyze policy and management of societies, could not conceive of adjusting or changing the direction of this massive beast (and that has been so instrumental for societal comforts). As such, in order to address systemic aggregations, negative byproducts of this system (pollution, poverty, population, psychosis, etc.), it would appear that the high-level administrators opted to take a "top-down", "authoritative" approach to these issues, and abuse the people, in the chosen manner (the "gentle tyranny" of the Chinese Communist Party is now "in vogue"), under strategic pretext, to maintain the world order. See "The Limits of Growth" by the Club of Rome for an early example of an analysis of global issues. Amongst the "realpolitick" crowd, this kind of social engineering is "acceptable", as reprehensible as it is. I may have even tended to agree, had I not discovered an infinitely better solution. [See "A New Economic"] compliance.)

Tangentially-Related

perpetuated.)

*Static*

(Those 4 basic types would be the

the tyranny virus were to be defining qualities of our "leaders", if crafts, sports, and more.

the "true believer".

Political

Creates a "crisis of leadership"; among those pushing this forward, there are 4 basic types:

the dupe, the compromised, the criminal, and

Psycho-Social Aggregations

1. Corruption - this is well-documented in our leadership: campaign contributions, legalized bribery, "pay-to-play", etc. The list goes on. Clearly, "corrupting that which is entrusted to prevent corruption", e.g. legal and political systems, is problematic.

2. Deception - deception often "begets deception", if one is not careful to remain honest and sincere; it aggregates until it causes such harm that it implodes on itself. Best to give "it" a wide berth, so the "deceptions" attack each other within their tangled webs.

3. Malicious Axioms - Cyclical self-fulfilling prophecies employed by "negative cultures".

A. "Nobody cares." - When this axiom is granted and perpetuated, a self-fulfilling prophecy ensues, ensuring that such becomes true, amongst the culture that retains it.

B. "There's nothing you can do." - Again, self-fulfilling negative prophecy cycle; perpetuates a cycle of abuse until the pushback inevitably occurs.

C. "Pics or it didn't happen." - This one creates a world where things don't happen in the "real world", but only in the digital, which is clearly controlled, managed, and in many cases, "weaponized" against the people. "Degrades" reality. Disturbing trends of believing random internet things over people, or your own senses. The continuing rise of picture and video manipulation ("deepfakes") is a dangerous trend as well.

D. "Everyone lies." - The only people that benefit from this cyclical axiom are the ones perpetuating it, i.e. the worst and most practiced liars among us. Continued, this ends badly, hence why it is such a sin to "bear false witness."

* Works like this: if everyone is, then everyone gets treated like they are; then more regulations to keep to people honest, and more people get involved to police such; more police beget more infringements on liberty, and on and on, until everyone is either the prisoner or the guard, or both, eventually.

(In a spiritual sense, for one to be both "prisoner and guard" is not necessarily a bad thing, as a free society requires "self-governance" from its own citizens. Thus, when that is the case, less "policing" is necessary.)

Miscellaneous Notes

A Note on Oil Pipelines: Much of what can be called "peacetime activism", that I have engaged in and called for in the past, can take a backseat for a while. Environmental activism, in particular, is clearly subordinate to dealing with the "shots fired" of this war, as shown hereon. I explicitly mention this because I was vocally opposed to a few pipelines for valid environmental reasons. (Respect for water sources is super important, still, and is a vital deterrent.)

However, our present circumstances have made pipeline shutdowns, or sabotage, acts of war. When a computer network that controls them is built right, pipelines, like other vital infrastructure, should not even be "hackable". Nor should they ever rely purely on "computer control", anyway. That they could (as we are led to believe), means that the network was designed to be exploited, i.e., it's an "inside job".

Concerning the 2020 Election: Clearly, this scenario is tied in with the shenanigans in our last election (to put it mildly); crises back-to-back, along to other problems to come; likely, many of the same bad actors are involved.

About the Title for this Series: I originally chose the phrase "The Great Awakening" because it seemed appropriate to the level of paradigm-shift that would occur following the propositions in "A New Economic". It was after my initial release in the Fall of 2019 that I investigated the "Q-verse", so to speak, and found that the phrase was often used there. There is a lot of nonsense in this subculture, and some truth. Confirm what "on the ground", like with other potentially specious stories.

It should be said, as well, that portions of the "Q-Anon" movement have been excessively attacking cultural industries that are, in some cases, strongly American and which we ought to be proud of, on a broad level. Few groups and industries have not had their reckoning already, or soon will. Hollywood, in particular, is a national treasure, ultimately, like our universities, and elsewise. The phrase "don't throw the baby out with the bathwater," comes

A Note on "Conspiracy Theories" Clearly, the broad strokes of the warnings of so-called, fringe "conspiracy theorists" these last decades were accurate.

The only real conspiracy necessary here, for this virus panic to have the desired effect, as shown above, and that of any future "crying wolf pandemic", is that of "coordinated lying" and censorship by a few select, prominent people. (With as much "plausible deniability", as possible.) The operative metrics for whether this could be successful, and that of others, is: the consistency of the lies; the reach of the megaphones; the confidence of the public; how well they have been "trained in deception"; tendency toward petty tyranny; control of media; the reach of real-world threats; and, of course, the "public submissiveness quotient".

"Compromised Media Quotient" = syndicate control of media (percentage of megaphones in radio, television, and social media); reach of that control (how many people each broadcast "affects", diluted with each "layer" of secondary repetition); consistency of the lies ("absorption" factor).

"Public Submissiveness Quotient" = public confidence in media; percentage of people who "accept deception"; tendency toward petty tyranny (percentage of people who "utilize deception"); reach of real-world threats (strong-arm tactics to increase both percentages).

Bibliography: Too numerous to count nor name; from the entirety of what I could read/watch/absorb/consider, since this whole thing began, across many

I cross-referenced all of this with my personal experience of living in three different states in 2020 and the Spring of 2021, including Maryland, Minnesota, and Kansas, with much time spent in Washington, D.C.

Garret	C.	Tufte,	PLS

www.tuftesvariations.com

Date

	INDUSTRIAL INCENTIVE	S:
Industries, e.g.		Monetary Incentive:	Command an Control Gair
A. Pharmaceuticals	Clear monetary motivation to "go along": vaccines, medicines, operations and surgeries for a renewed "nation of hypochondriacs". MAJOR PUSHER	Astronomical	*Astronomica
B. "Big Tech"	Clearly benefits from the reliance on their exclusive and controlled platforms; limitless in potential abuse, which we are already witnessing in many ways. MAJOR PUSHER	Astronomical	*Astronomica
C. Chemicals	For cleaning, sterilizing agents, hand sanitizers, etc. for "hypochondriatic panic". Direct beneficiaries of the panic, but not major pushers.	Moderate	Low
D. Plastics	This industry, as with chemicals, is a direct beneficiary of the panic, but not a major pusher.  Note: The hard-fought progress, after decades-long efforts of first-world environmentalists, to reduce widespread reliance upon "single-use plastics", was reversed overnight, because of lies.	Moderate	Low
E. "Gig Economy"	Trash jobs with little security; clearly benefits when traditional employment drops. Few common people ultimately benefit, however. [Note: "how many people benefit" is a valuable, hard metric to analyze large-scale trends, dependent on defining "benefit", of course.]	Very High	Very High
Market Share	The approach of corporations to make money exclusive of "encouraged; "cycle of abuse" made practically in business: justification "because virus". [A trend that lends itself to por fruit".]	big guys attacking the	little guys given
"Command and Control"	Central planners may be benefitting from the attack in the sibelievers; others have quieted their constitutional misgiving has unfortunately been hijacked by deceivers. Our government responsibility to the world, as where liberty guides firstly.	s to "go with the flow	." This "mushin"
Central Banking	On a personal, causal level, this attack came on shortly after event that some in the banking system saw that as an exister respective monetary system (though it ultimately is not), the commie", rather than "risk" their control by betting on some enterprise system as it was. [Or they may be using this time to begin with 1	ntial threat to their con ey may have chosen to ething new, or continu	trol of their go "full ing with our free

PLAYERS	/ IDEOLOGICAL GROUPS
	Players
A. China	The mask and pandemic impositions were begun in 20 with SARS; China has been doing what we are experiencing now for nearly 20 years; they "beta-teste the tyranny on their own people, in preparation for this very attack on the free world.
B. United States	Systemic corruption in leadership positions has been a prevalent that there was going to be very heavy compromises when the "creditors came knocking", as they did in 2020. Conversely, the majority of the American people, through comforts and luxuries dependent upon compliance, have been "fattened up" this since World War II.
C. International Corporations	The systems these companies exemplify, do not necessarily hold loyalty to any nation, nor to any peop The corruption that such systems allow, would have brought forth something of this nature eventually, for legally-binding monetary priorities, and now beyond, that of "command and control" itself. Each company lits own character, and its own motivations, besides the foundational similarities. Machines, here, require hum control at the highest level, if for nothing other than ethical and moral and humane purposes.
	Ideological Groups
A. Communists	Ultimately, this whole virus panic is an attempted Chinese-brand communist takeover. They started doir to their own people in 2003 with SARS, and, along w their friends in industry/media/etc., delivered the final product in 2020.
B. Criminals	Clearly, being able to hide your face, day in and day of benefits petty criminals and large criminal syndicates.  "The worst criminals aim to turn you into one."
C. "Population Controllers"	There may yet be powerful people who are "true believers", here. Something to be aware of, if such may not be confirmed. The test will be whether women vaccinated with these new concoctions can sa deliver children.
D. Environmentalists	Some saw benefit in "lockdowns"; such is only temporary, if ever a good thing; presuppositions behin much of the messaging of "climate change" have been deceptive, with vital metrics left out of the equation.

SOLUTIONS:

Also Note: The biological component of this, the virus itself, is the most temporary and short-lived aspect of the whole scheme, and is therefore not the point. Clearly, as shown, the major intent behind the whole attack is socially-engineering irrational mass compliance. Emotionally-triggered rational groupthink is the "holy grail" for the forces of evil. Do not give it Illegality of Mandates: As anyone who has closely read the Constitution would know, none of the "mandates" issued concerning this virus (or any others, for that matter) are legal. And, considering their effects, not only are these mandates illegal, they are deeply criminal. Individuals, businesses, and other organizations that have been negatively impacted, monetarily, by "virus mandates", should feel free to sue the NIH, the CDC, and the WHO, among others, in civil court. As the truth comes out and scholars, attorneys, and judges start to understand what's really gone on here, our legal system's decisions will adjust accordingly.

Media Note: I would be less hesitant to comment on the news of the day, if I were more certain of the events in question, the "on the ground reality", as it were. Considering the landscape today, it's a bit difficult, to say the least, to have confidence in "the news".

Considering so, here's how I deal with "fake news": Speculate and presume and deduce as much as you reasonably can, and take action that satisfies as many of those possibilities/probabilities. Being potentially "misinformed", therefore, will less likely hazard you and others. Also a good strategy for times when some issue has harmful implications in the simple binary, obvious choice/decision, in how one ought best to proceed. Issues are nonetheless addressed in a cautious manner, to be further acted on when information of higher reliability is acquired.

"A New Economic"

This plan can undo much of the economic damage done to our society, and still carries the benefits as outlined originally. It was fortunate that it was released and spread about before the panic and censorship kicked in. (Full release in Sept. 2019)

This will have to wait, mostly, until, or concurrent with, addressing other pressing matters, as shown hereon.

Also, as this plan is what may be called an "Economic Declaration of Independence" or a "Super-Jubilee", and its implementation carries strong consequences, the introduction of the idea, itself, was most vital prior to the initial panic, less than its immediate implementation, which carries too much shock to trade and government and supply chains and energy production, to be introduced and implemented in the short term.

Note: Little "authoritative action" needs to be taken on the issues listed on the chart for "A New Economic", just the steps. This needs to be clear.

Also, the way in which the steps were crafted was mostly to create, in the mind of the reader, an image of the economic world, after the shift, and encourage thought on the psychological/social effects of such a world. It should go without saying that there are a thousand kinks that need to be ironed out before actually implementing the steps.

Also, I have amended "Step 2", as it was originally shown, to indicate that it is not necessary to "close" any accounts, but rather to use them to "pay foreign debts". In such a manner, after "boarding the new ship", we instead "push the old ship out to sea", rather than "sinking it."

"Exorcism of Tyranny"

This plan reasserts constitutional authority over the federal government, through the mechanism of encouraging people so employed, to ignore those orders of "leaders" who invalidate themselves through the quality of said "orders". It's a reassertion of the "Law of laws", that additionally provides the relevant law that is to be enforced. This adjusts the focus of law enforcement toward their most sacred duty, while freeing them from carrying out petty tyranny on the common people, most exemplified by the absurdities put forth in the present virus panic.

This chart is clearly of pertinence in that effort, and it should be noted that the recommendations made in that pamphlet, were based on the observations and deductions shown hereon.

The Primacy of Reality"

This interelated conception, in short, is a manner of establishing "reality" again, with components that relate less to economics or politics, than to psychology, religion, sociology, technology, and more. This will be the 3rd and final "Great Awakening", of my contribution. *Coming Soon*

Note: If we do not learn from this "live exercise", then the industrial/political systems have us potentially trapped in an endless (?) cycle of abuse. (As if there being no ceiling on "how much you would pay to get medical attention" weren't bad enough, e.g.) Note: These lists are not exhaustive by any means. There are many more observations and consequences that may be deduced from the "tyranny virus" and its associated arms.

Concluding Thoughts

"Trust yourselves, and do not be deceived." Stand up for yourself, don't be afraid of conflict, and if it happens, practice "de-escalation". Stay calm and state your stance. The "Good News" is right here: YOU have incredible power to shape YOUR world. Stand tall. Hold steady.

A note on Censorship: for writers, performers, artists, historians, journalists: censorship is basically unfairly attacking your competition, cancelling the game and declaring a winner anyway. That's why we have the referee: the Constitution and US defenders, guardians, you may say. Law, with the big "L". Truth is what we tell. All have this within them, as we all have the divine spark, should we choose to reveal "this little light of mine"; and, as such, is the assault we are under. Shine your candle bright! "Long ago, this land was green and good; then the crystal cracked..." It is yet there... we can rebuild it... this temple shall shine radiant beams of golden light.

What has happened here is something very insidious, that is "being done" to us against our wishes and under false pretenses. You don't need to put up with it, nor does just about anyone. The political reasons that are ultimately behind this will soon be known. In the meantime, in person, ignore those ridiculous demands that you're supposed to comply with, prior, in order to "make the bully start the fight"in real life, and you can know who the real bully is, and that much better to tell him or her to "shove it" so to speak. (And so that "the bully" realizes that they are being one.) It's almost like, as well, that the digital world hacked our realities; for, big surprise, artificial intelligence, likely, had to have had a leading role in design and implementation of the series of events, actions, and rhetoric known as the "tyranny virus". Add to which, when censoring political speech becomes the realm of algorithms, then "the computers" have us "by the balls", so to speak, in that the medium creates its own "robot police", and, without human control, is a most wicked manner of beast.

Another way to understand what happened, is that China "tricked us" into doing the lockdowns, wearing the masks, and governing through "fiat dictate", which goes against all of our most sacred laws of due process and separation of powers. Politicians and authorities got caught up in this, and often doubled-down to avoid being seen as making a mistake. Ultimately, another great lesson to be learned from all of this, is "the great value and virtue in admitting that one has been deceived." This is vital if we are to avoid another such panic that wrecks our lives, benefits a select few in the shadows, attacks our judicial system and good-faith governmental processes, and God-knows what else, all under the unquestionable auspices of false pretense. Let us not be "fooled again".